MOD Labs

The MOD Labs house open-source plugin development, Arduino-based hardware creation and a beta tester program.

Our Labs program provides an environment for software and hardware development and experimentation.

We will soon organize information around this program here. Meanwhile, you can check the links below and chat in the MOD Labs Forum category

Plugin development

This section gathers information for those who want to develop and deploy their plugins to the MOD devices.

We are working on a more comprehensive documentation of each step of the process. For now, check this:
